

tackling climate change

Climate Change is a challenge that affects us all. We must think globally and act locally.

Local Labor wants to make it easier for individuals, households, families, communities and businesses to commit to making the change to a lower carbon economy.

All levels of government must play a role.

At the Marrickville Council, local Labor is committed to a new approach that supports:

- ✓ local residents and businesses reviewing and reducing their greenhouse gas emissions through leadership, education and incentives;
- ✓ local planning decisions that encourage public transport use, car share schemes, more cycling, walking and a reduction in car use where possible;
- ✓ sustainable approaches to development;
- ✓ a reduction of greenhouse gas emissions across all areas of council (eg fleet management, waste, planning, roads, communication, energy use), and
- ✓ preserving and enhancing green spaces, wildlife corridors, tree maintenance and pest management.
